BEFORE YOU START

How to Use This Roadmap

This roadmap is designed for 30 minutes per day — no coding, no technical background, no prior AI experience required. Each day builds on the last, taking you from curious beginner to confident AI practitioner in exactly one month.

The roadmap is divided into four weekly phases, each with a distinct focus. Week 1 is about discovery and orientation. Week 2 is about hands-on experimentation. Week 3 is about turning experiments into systems. Week 4 is about leading with AI and planning your next horizon.

Don't skip days. The sequence is intentional. Each day's action prepares you for the next. If you miss a day, simply pick up where you left off — but aim for consistency over perfection.

Use the tools mentioned. Every tool listed has a free plan or trial. You don't need to pay for anything to complete this roadmap. The goal is breadth first — find what works for your business, then go deep.

■ COMMITMENT CHALLENGE

Block 30 minutes every morning before you check email. Put it in your calendar as 'AI Learning — Non-negotiable'. The founders who complete this roadmap consistently are the ones who treat it like a meeting, not a suggestion.

The 4 Ground Rules

30 minutes max per day

If you can't finish, note where you stopped and continue tomorrow. Don't try to do 3 days in one sitting.

Actually use the tools

Don't just read — open the tools, create accounts, run the exercises. Learning by doing is the only way AI skills stick.

Document everything

Keep a running 'AI Journal' in Notion or Google Docs. Log what worked, what didn't, and time saved each day.

Share your progress

Post one insight per week on LinkedIn. Teaching accelerates learning — and builds your personal AI brand.
